Important News...

We were finally able to have our Holiday party on Monday and are very excited to get moving and ending our semester! We are finishing up on lots of loose ends and projects that we had started before Christmas break! Thank you to anyone that gave me a gift, it was unnecessary but very thoughtful! I am so blessed to teach your children!

Have a wonderful weekend!

History

We finished our study guide today- and will have our test next week- Tuesday. On Monday we will study in class together.

Math

We finished our study guide and have a test on Monday. We then will begin a new book and chapter!

Science

We will be starting a new STEM project next week that will go into this marking period. To help our grades.

Important News:

We have half days on Thursday and Friday next week due to High School Exams and the end of the marking period.

Please get with me if you feel you need a conference about your child's academics! I am more than happy to meet anytime!

Language Arts

Next week we will be taking our mid-year tests. I'm looking for about 50% from students as we are halfway through the year and we still have one half of a year of learning left!
